George Rogers Clark

This is it—George Rogers Clark High School—836 students' worth of stark reality. At 8:30 each morning the halls fill with stampeding humanity and a new day begins, a day just like every other.

Seven hours comprise the normal working day of a Clark student. One of these hours, either fourth or fifth period, is spent at lunch. Every Wednesday the three morning hours are shortened in order to accommodate an extra activity period, during which such organizations as the Student Council meet.

The ensuing pages paint a portrait of the George Rogers Clark High School, home-away-from home for 836 lively students.

The latest school gossip is hashed over as students "anxiously" wait for the bell to ring.

and that wonderful year . . . 1962

"Ye olde ticket window" saw the sale of over 3500 tickets for games, plays, and concerts during the 1961-1962 school year.

Workmen finish the new 1962 addition to the school—an exit and a teachers' lounge.

During fourth-period lunch, Clark athletes enjoy casual conversation with one another at the "Senior Table."

After a hard days work scads of Clarkites eagerly climb aboard the bus bound home. The famous yellow Shore Line buses transport students to and from school each day.

Observing Holidays and Saving Bottle Caps Are

Seeing a smile on a Clarkites face is not only a heart-warming experience, but also a common one. Whether it is in "That Wonderful Year" or just any year, it is something which one will always remember.

Every school day a great number of Clark students must come and go by bus. After many times it becomes no problem, for one finds it a time to meet new friends, hash over the days events, and discuss tomorrow's homework. When vacation comes, whether for a holiday or for the summer, it is a time to put forth with a smile. But deep down every Clark student knows they will miss talking to their friends in the hall before homeroom and between classes and only wish they were back in school so they wouldn't have to do the work Mom had lined up for them.

Which is the monster? Pot-shot. John Mazur pitches Pepsi Caps into "Pecola" for the Hayward Memorial Fund.

Clark Royalty Escorted to Homecoming Festivities

A rousing 1961 Home-coming weekend began with a pep assembly and Senior skit Friday afternoon. Vaike Kuldsaar captured the title of 1961 Home-coming Queen. Mary Keith, senior attendant; Eileen Foreman, junior attendant; Donna Stombaugh, sophomore attendant; and Paula Roadman, freshman attendant completed the court.

A parade, consisting of both cars and floats, formed before the game. In the float category, the queen's float, created by the stage crew, placed first. The Keystone cops, the orchestra's car, won first in the car division. The loyal supporters, however, witnessed a 20-0 loss to Hammond High.

Students capped a memorable weekend with a dance Saturday night in the gym. It was the perfect end to a memorable weekend.

TOP—"We caught 'em," yells a Keystone cop. The orchestra's car caught the judges' eyes and won first place in the car competition. BOTTOM—"Wednesday Knight" and "Court Jester Martin" end the Senior skit, based on Camelot.

Senior Vaike Kuldsaar, the radiant queen, reigned over an enthusiastic 1961 Home-coming crowd.

"Deck the float with frills for Vaikie!" That's the cry as Stage Crew joins to build a float fit for a queen. Under the direction of Miss Knapp and with the co-operation of all, the queen's float earned first class results.

Fun like this helped to relieve the monotony of waiting for the game. Tim Banaszak, senior, gets the full treatment.

"Pancho," Pep Sessions

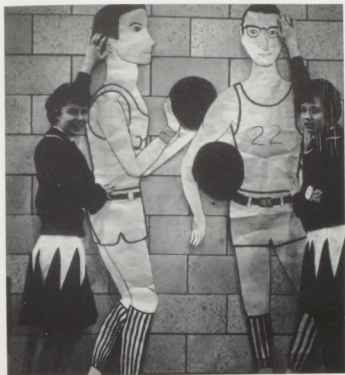

Wednesday, February 21, proved to be a very successful day for Clark. At the annual sectional assembly, Mr. Aldrich roused Pioneer spirit with his pep talk. After the assembly, students participated in a caravan to Washington gym. Clark boosters had good reason to be mighty proud of their "Pioneer team". The Pioneers fought their way to the semifinal round of the sectionals by defeating the Highland Trojans, with a score of 64-43. That same evening, they showed their strength by eliminating a hopeful Lowell squad, 65-59.

On Friday, during seventh period, another assembly was held in honor of our team. At this time, a surprise guest, Pancho Gonzales, led the cheering section in his version of "Two Bits." Unfortunately, the Pioneers were defeated by the East Chicago Washington Senators in the semifinals on Saturday afternoon, 68-51.

As the end of the game nears, Pioneer hopes fall in streams of disgust and anguish.

Cheerleaders Jo Anne Jalovecky and Madalyn Moldraski "hang" two players in the halls of GRC.

"F-a-r-m-e-r-s, f-a-r-m-e-r-s," yell two country cousin cheerleaders participating in the Senior Girl's skit.

In a fiery pep talk, Coach Emerson Aldrich exclaims that it is now Clark's turn to slaughter Highland.

"And you . . ." yells Coach Stravros during a time out at a tense moment of the Sectionals in the Clark-Lowell contest.

"Holy Caboose" the Juniors Have

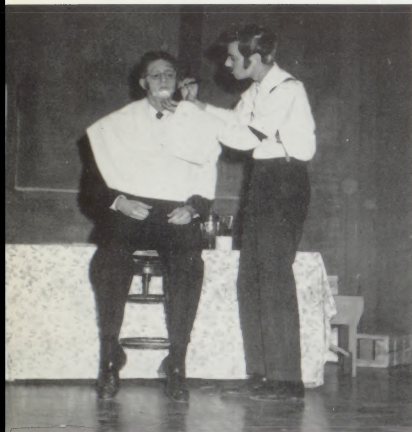

New York in the 1880's was the main background for the Junior Class play, The Matchmaker, by Thornton Wilder. Under the direction of Miss Jeani Knapp, the actors presented a successful two-nighter.

Chaos broke loose when a wealthy Yonkers merchant tried to prevent his niece's marriage. With the aid of a "matchmaker," the couple attempted an escape to New York, but by a series of coincidences repeatedly met the uncle.

The play introduced such characters as Horace Vandergelder, who thought nothing more gratifying than making money; Miss Dolly Levi, the "matchmaker," whose main objective in life was to find Vandergelder a wife, preferably herself; Ermengarde, Vandergelder's niece, and Ambrose, her husband-to-be, the subjects of most of the conflict although merely an innocent couple trying to get married; Cornelius Hackel, Mr. Vandergelder's assistant, who came to New York in search of some adventure, and his "tag-along," Barnaby Tucker, also in search of adventure but not as self-assured as Cornelius; the widow Molly, tired of selling, whose main objective is to meet some men; her assistant Minnie Faye, the perfect image of innocence; and finally Miss Van Huysen, a fine old woman who takes great pleasure in relating all the many farcical happenings of her life.

When Mrs. Levi told Mrs. Molly, "Yonkers lies up decimated today," she was not aware of the truth of her statement. The events in Mrs. Molloy's hat shop ended up with men hiding under tables and Mrs. Levi winning a chance to hook Mr. Vandergelder. At the restaurant, Mr. Molloy, Minnie, Cornelius, and Barnaby had the misfortune of meeting Mr. Vandergelder and Mrs. Levi. Fate also brought Ermengarde and Ambrose there. Miss Van Huysen's house also served as a meeting place for the entire company, but under more favorable circumstances.

"Even my mother didn't think I was as interesting as all that."

"You almost lost an ear on it, Mr. Vandergelder."

Become Matchmakers

"Money is like manure, it's not worth a thing unless it's spread around encouraging young things to grow."

"But I don't want a bath. I'll catch cold," says Barnaby. "Don't worry, dear. I'll slap you all over," assures Flora.

CAST—Cornelius Hackle, (J. Boswell); Gertrude, (K. Kurasz); Malachi Stack, (D. Pramuk); Mrs. Molloy, (J. Tolchinsky); Cabman, (M. Kessler); Minnie, (C. Hoffman); Barnaby Tucker, (M. Levin); Mrs. Levi, (L. Ruf); Vandergelder,

The Wicked Witch of the West schemingly devises a vicious plot for the devastation of the voyagers from the Land of Oz.

Dorothy consoles the Cowardly Lion because he feels so inferior to all the other members of the forest. Toto, Dorothy's dog, listens intently.

"If happy little blue-birds fly beyond the rainbow—why, oh why, can't I?" Is there ever a child in the world who hasn't asked that question? Well, the children in the audience from 7 to 70 had the wonderful experience of "flying" over the rainbow when the all-school production, THE WIZARD OF OZ, was presented under the direction of Miss Rhoda Kittelsen. There were two performances of this fanciful show, one in the afternoon especially for the grade school students, the other, an evening presentation.

The story centers around Dorothy, who is running away from home with her dog Toto to prevent his being taken away from her. She doesn't get very far before a cyclone lifts her high in the air and brings her down with such a thud that she becomes unconscious for some time. During this period, she has a most fascinating dream that involves a scarecrow, looking for a brain, a tin woodsman, in search of a heart; and a cowardly lion, wishing for courage. They all join forces and meet with many adventures on their way to OZ, where there is a wonderful Wizard who, it is believed, can give them what they desire. There is the bad witch with her terrible curse, and, of course, the beautiful good witch who conquers all evil with love and kindness. They all get their wishes and Dorothy comes back to consciousness to find herself at home with her aunt where she now knows she really belongs.

Beyond the Rainbow to the Land of Oz

TOP LEFT: Glinda the Good, beautiful queen of the court, a symbol of all that is right and pious in the world, is faithfully attended and protected by her two watchful guards. She helps Dorothy reach her goal, returning home to Kansas, by directing her to Emerald City, where the Wizard of Oz rules. There, he enables Dorothy to reach home by sending her and her dog, Toto, home in a balloon. BOTTOM LEFT: The "bold" and "fearless" Wizard of Oz contemplates a pressing problem which confronts the safety and welfare of the people living under his supreme guidance. Although he is an imposter, he still manages to help Dorothy and her friends, the Cowardly Lion, the Tin Woodsman, and the Scarecrow. BOTTOM RIGHT: The Guard of the Palace of the Wizard of Oz watches attentively for the arrival of the weary travelers Dorothy, Toto, Scarecrow, Tin Woodsman, and the Cowardly Lion. TOP RIGHT: The beautiful and kind Good Witch of the North advises her loyal subjects, the Munchkins. The arrival of Dorothy and her dog, Toto, soon adds to their plight.

Yo-Yo Ties Up '62 Fads

Plaids Lead Fashions

Fashion-conscious Clarkites displayed the fads that followed through the year from "Beaver derbies" to pantaloons.

Sweaters ranging from bulky knits to plain cardigans for both boys and girls were popular during the school season. Bright colors, unusually blended, added to the hours spent in and out of school.

Traditionally pleated and straight skirts in bright solids and plaids were worn directly below the knees. For the males, subdued plaid and dark pegged pants were the school attire.

Shoes for school had either pointed or squared toes. The newest fad came in colorful stripes for the females.

Standard slacks and matching tops were the apparel for afterschool activities. For extremely casual dates, girls donned the local university and college sweatshirts.

For more formal occasions, brocade and silken materials used in bouffant dresses with bell-shaped skirts were fashionable. Dark suits with ronlet shirts fitted out boys for any formal occasions.

Paula Grandbois, Marilyn Popovich, and Mary Howard display their favorite colleges by their colorful sweatshirts.

Sweaters are here to stay. The classical long-sleeved pullover is modeled by Junior Carolyn Sinder. Senior Tom Blazak sports one of the favorites this season, a long blazer striped cardigan. A hit this year is the unique bulky v-neck worn by Senior Fran Condo.

Mr. Mueller and Mr. Powell kibitz as Richard Murzyn demonstrates techniques of the yo-yo fad to Mr. Meadows.

Carol Tkach, in a blue brocade cocktail dress and Chet Farrell, in a charcoal suit, prepare to go to a formal.

J. Taylor, R. Szot, J. Dybel, R. Kowal, W. Wood, and M. Murzyn are the fashioned-minded Clarkites.

"Students," thunders the Honorable Raymond J. Madden, as he addresses the student body about Congress.

Literally hundreds of cultural horizons, at least one horizon per pupil, expanded this year through the influence of assemblies. Mr. Arthur Erickson, chief administrator of assemblies, brought a wide assortment of talent to the Clark stage.

One of the first assemblies of the year introduced Principal D. D. Lockey to his new student body. Candidates for Student Council offices addressed their constituents in April. Local talent further displayed itself when the debate team, champions of the Metropolitan Debate Union, conducted an intra-squad practice session for an assembly.

The Thornton Fractional South High School band played a concert here in February for the first half of a cultural exchange program. Our band reciprocated in April with a concert at Fractional. Mr. Franklin's tumbling squad disproved President Kennedy's assertion that American youth are unfit.

Everyone will remember the "This Is Your Life" assembly honoring Mr. Darwin Eret, retired Orchestra teacher at Clark.

Herr Gehrig's Gary Gardner tells Mark Trombley, "You know there's something rotten in your mouth, Mark."

Couples Whirl into "Wonderland by Night"

With habitual elegance, the class of 1962 planned and presented the Junior Class Prom, June 3, 1961. Madura's Danceland, focal point of Whiting's deb season, burst into bloom in shades of pink, rose, and silver, the class colors. The Decoration Committee, led by Ron Dembowski and Paul Markonni, bordered the dance floor with columns of aluminum foil and pink and rose crepe paper, furnished every intimate table with an intimate candle, and displayed on the rear stage a mannequin dressed in the costume of a lovely Southern belle. Ron and Paul gave their final exquisite touch of the "Wonderland by Night" with a lavish ceiling centerpiece.

The 120 ecstatic couples danced the night away to the sweet strains of Reynold Young and his Society Orchestra, appearing through the courtesy of Paul Wood, class treasurer and music chairman.

Prom-decorators P. Fecz, C. Freeland, and C. Hoyda adorn Madura's with pink and rose crepe paper.

Clark Juniors Michele Kampo and Janice Dybel show how the twist was done at the dance "Twistin' Twenties."

Rumble, Crumble, and Stomp Through the Gym

Unusual? The past year has been a collection of dances that could better be called "unique." Since the Latin Club's "Rubicon Rumble," Clark's gymnasium has worn a dozen outlandish Friday night disguises. The aforementioned extravaganza featured an ersatz-chariot race, the "Littlest 500," in which heroic charioteers clung to tricycles as they rocketed around the track, savagely competing for the victor's spoils. The noble Bill Rowley, represented Mr. Watkins' Junior algebra class, with his trusty steeds and vehicle.

Not to be outdone, the orchestra perpetrated the "Schnibble Stomp," named after a modern folk song of sponsor Thelma Wilcox's creation. The limelight rested on the world of folk culture as local artists wept, wailed, and grunted in the Original Rock 'n Roll Contest. Top honors were won by an all-star group fronted by Jeani Knapp, playing and singing the soulful ballad, "Purple Flying Carpet."

The Junior Class displayed its methodical madness with "Twistin' Twenties," and the GAC's "Crater Crumble" travestied John Glenn's orbital flight three days later.

Seniors Paul Wood and Gary Kaplan give Bill Rowley that extra "pull" for the chariot race at the "Rubicon Rumble."

Washington and Clark Meet on Common Ground

The morning of October 24 brought a sigh of relief from the conglomerate throat of more than forty teachers and administrators. Such an uninhibited display was occasioned by the departure of a trainload of Washington-bound Hammond students, about fifty of whom called Clark their home.

After a pleasantly active night at the Manger Hotel in Richmond, Virginia, the pilgrims proceeded to Jamestown and Williamsburg, there to steep themselves in Early American culture. Next on the itinerary was Washington, D. C.

In the capitol city, our junior tourists visited all the usual attractions. They visited the Lincoln and Jefferson Memorials, the White House, the Capitol, the Smithsonian Institute, the Washington Monument. October 31 saw them home, dissipated, but happy.

"Old Abe's" monument was one of the historic sights taken in by Clark students who took the Washington trip.

These seven voyagers stop at the statue of Captain Smith in Jamestown.

"We Finally Made It," Echoes the Class of 1962

Donned in mortar boards and robes, Clark seniors gather around the school entrance for dress rehearsal of commencement. All are happy as they approach this final step.

One-hundred fifty seniors said good-by for the last time June 6, as Commencement drew to a close. The previous week had been a constant rush of activity appropriately named "Senior Activity Week." First on the long list of diversions was Game Night, held in the spacious gymnasium. The group warmed up on volleyball and dancing, then moved headquarters to Sheridan Beach for more activity.

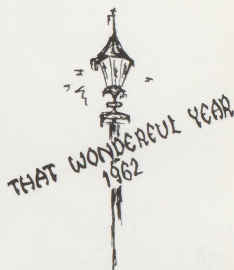

A twin note of gentility was introduced by "Culture Night," when the entire class attended the band concert and the Senior Tea, bringing parents, teachers, and students together for a final evening of fond reminiscence. The preliminary round of socializing concluded with the Senior Banquet at Teibel's Restaurant in Schererville.

Baccalaureate, prelude to graduation, followed all too closely, drowning a week's giddiness in the somber liquor of farewell. Old bonds of comradeship waxed strong in anticipation of the last night together. Graduation, when it arrived, was greeted with a poignant mixture of relief and regret.

"Flower-makers" Cynthia Hoyda, Pat Krygier, and George Troksa cut out flowers for programs for the banquet.

In Memory of Our Late Principal

Mr. O. B. Hayward, principal of our school for the past eleven years, was a man who strove to apply a constructive philosophy of education to the fulfillment of his duty. Through his meticulous regulation of school policy, he created the environment which he felt would afford every student the best possible start in education. He placed scholarship at the top of his scale of values, but never slighted the character and personality-building experience of extra-curricular activities.

Although his tenure on earth has ended, his memory will be preserved, not only in the educational program he helped develop, but in the minds and hearts of all who knew him: friends, parents, teachers, and the thousands of students for whose educational development he was responsible. To these his life was dedicated, to these his death brought sorrow.

Capable Administrators Counsel and Direct Us

Durward Lockey—B.A., M.A., Principal, Past President of the Hammond Lions Club, Colonel in Community Chest Drive, Sunday School Teacher.

Behind every successful student stands a faculty, a guidance office, and a principal, helping him to achieve his goal in education. The following is Clark's staff:

Miss Veva McAtee, is the National Honor Society and College Day sponsor, the Director of Guidance and Junior Class Guidance Counselor.

Mr. Arnold Corder, Guidance Counselor for the Sophomores and Seniors, is the vocational advisor.

The Freshman Class is the assignment of Miss Edna Howe, the teacher-counselor who directs group testing at Clark.

Supervising activities of the entire school is Mr. Durward Lockey, Principal. Mr. Lockey, a past President of the Hammond Lions Club, has shown an interest in both civic and school affairs.

Some of the duties of our guidance personnel are home and school adjustments, testing, counseling, and maintaining of records and test scores.

Directors of the Hammond School System

R. B. Miller is Superintendent of the Hammond Public School System.

The Hammond Board of Education, under the capable direction of Superintendent of Hammond public schools, Mr. R. B. Miller has a great deal of influence on the students' school lives.

The School Board appropriates funds for various projects in the Hammond school system. Not only does the board direct the funds, but it also arranges for the completion of these projects.

The board has made it possible for Clark to use facilities which promote both educational and recreational development.

Mr. Miller has been at his present duties since December 1, 1959. Since this date one of his primary projects has become a reality. Hammond now has four high schools which offer courses in driver training. His plan for offering Russian in all Hammond public high schools has not yet been initiated, but is soon to be.

Within the next two years the School Board will have another complete high school added to its jurisdiction. This will increase the number of its already overabundant obligations.

HAMMOND SCHOOL BOARD—FRONT ROW: Mr. Leo Bereolos, treasurer; Mrs. Margaret Allen; Mrs. Claire Stern, secretary; Dr. Henry Eggers, president; Mr. Charles Scott. ROW TWO: Mr. Oliver Rapp, assistant superintendent; Mr. Charles Bomberger, attorney; Mr. M. H. Thorsen, assistant superintendent; Mr. Donald Gabit, business manager; R. B. Miller, superintendent.

Clickin' Class of 62 Participated in Activities

In 1959 the class of 1962 was organized under the direction of Miss Marie Nordvig and Miss Elaine Gonzalez. We chose Dave Chyla, president; Susan Kalina, vice-president; Carol Cudek, secretary; and Ron Kalina, treasurer. As ambitious freshmen we presented our first class dance "Topsy Turvy Tumble Turnabout".

As "know it all sophomores", we rolled up our sleeves another notch to present "Barnyard Capers". We selected our "sea Blue" class rings and copped second place for our homecoming float.

As proud juniors, we finally realized we were upperclassmen. To prove our talents, we sponsored our class play "Good Housekeeping". Then, we went European to present our junior class dance "April in Paris". Our Junior class prom "Wonderland by Night" high lighted our third year as we anxiously awaited "THAT WONDERFUL YEAR."

As we turned "Big bad Seniors", we overcame all our fears and developed cases of the well-known "Senioritis." With the memories of our past three years, we eagerly awaited graduation.

As Juniors, we decorated Madura's for the silver and pink, star-studded prom "Wonderland by Night."

Our Senior Class officers were Jack Taylor, veep; Paul Wood, pres.; Jo Anne Jalovecky, sec.; Mike Kirn, treas.

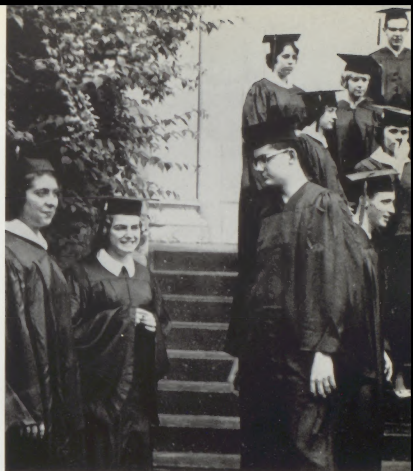

Senior Clarkites invaded the nation's capitol and visited Mount Vernon in the fall.

Eyes Upon the World Ahead . . .

Graduates Were Wisely Led

Miss Marie Nordvig and Mrs. Lillian Wilcox, class sponsors, plan senior activities for the 1962 year.

SENIORS—At last! My, how time does fly! Just when a person begins to know what it's all about, it's all over. Relieved? Yes! But High School is pretty good after all; and it's not going to be the same OUT THERE. The finals; looking for a job; singing on the steps of G.R.C.; wearing a cap and gown; the last dance; having pictures taken; seeing a lot of things never noticed before; walking around "sorta sad like"; but, swelling up when someone points and says, "SENIORS!"

Scholars say that we have 365-plus days in our year. Of these, some are yesterdays, some are today's, some are tomorrows; but there is one day that is a big day. The greatest day for you.

Graduation is your day!

So, we celebrate with you and are pleased that we've had a chance to share in the high lights. We extend our congratulations and sincere good wishes!

Marie Nordvig
Lillian F. Wilcox

Nineteen 63'ers

Junior Class Officers: Cliff Leigh, v-president; Jan Forauer, secretary; Sharon Gabbert, treasurer; Bob Ference, president; Mr. Erickson, sponsor.

Again this year, the Junior Class made history with its class dance. "Twistin' Twenties" was one of the most successful dances of the year.

"The Matchmaker" was presented as the Junior Class Play and received almost capacity crowds on both performances.

All these events led up to the climatic event of the season, the prom, "In The Still Of The Night."

Freshman class officers: M. Trelinski, D. Sallay, B. Vaughan, M. Toops, and sponsors Mr. Meadows and Mr. Pruesz.

News Flash—

The Freshmen Class began an active first year with the election of officers in November. Their class dance, "Peppermint Paradise", was the high light of their first school year. After working long and hard they proved to themselves that they, too, were capable of creating a successful dance. After a year of hard work, they have finally gained their place at George Rogers Clark. The next few years will tell what type of individuals the Class of 1965 will produce.

That Wonderful Year . . .

ACADEMICS

We drew monsters in Miss Wulkow's class . . . in Mr. Martin's class, we discovered how the automobile engine functioned . . . three qualified from Clark for the National Merit Scholarships finals . . . we learned of Mark Twain in Miss McCampbell's class . . . We prepared fudge in Miss Ide's cooking class . . . Disecting and drawing grasshoppers and worms proved of extra interest in biology . . . graphs proved to be of definite difficulty in trigonometry . . . Boys' and Girls' State delegates found their experiences at Indiana University unforgettable . . . Barbara Toops earned the title of top homemaker by winning the Betty Crocker Homemaker Award . . . these academic programs gave the school the record it has and added to THAT WONDERFUL YEAR.

Grammar, Literature,

Clark's varsity debate team, under the direction of Mr. Arthur Erickson, possessed a highly impressive record of fourteen victories and only two defeats. During their season they defeated Hammond Morton, last year's state champions, and walked off with first place honors at the Invitational Debate Tournament held at Hammond High.

One of the many research topics was a controversial problem which proved to be of definite interest. This problem consisted of the question as to whether or not the federal government should equalize educational opportunities by means of grants to the state or public elementary and secondary education.

During the summer, in order to improve their speaking skills, some team members attended debate

"Out, damned spot! Out, I say!" quotes Gerry Dubezak as she portrays Lady Macbeth in Miss Wulkow's literature class.

Varsity debaters Konrad Banasak, Gary Kaplan, Mike Kirn and Bob Weinberg, engaged in a word tilt on the need for federal aid to education, are oblivious to Linda Swenson's signal that it's time for their gems of wisdom to cease.

and Oratory Form a Basis for English Usage clinics which were held at numerous colleges and universities. These schools included Northwestern University, Michigan State University, and the University of Colorado.

Speech pupils this year were given a small taste of debate and the results proved to be very successful. In this stimulating course a pupil became familiar with demonstration speeches, "selling" speeches, oral interpretation, and choral reading.

Public speaking was also encouraged in English and literature. While the literature pupils were busy reading and interpreting fascinating stories, English scholars were delving into the correction of such gross illiteracies as the comma splice and the dangling or misplaced modifier.

In speech class Yvonne Drasco plays "beautician for a day" as she gives Gail Gordon a new hair-do.

Juniors Cliff Liehe, Barbara Hered, Jim Dijak, and Marty Kessler are helped by Miss Delores McCampbell in selecting suitable books for oral and written interpretive reviews for both English and literature class.

Clarkites Delve into the Languages of German,

"Ole," cries matador Allen Strisko as "Bull" Bailey charges. This is a part of the Spanish class's study of bull fights.

Through the use of records, films, tape recordings, and review teams, Latin pupils acquired an appreciation of language and style. The many Latin words, quotations, and mottoes used in everyday English were thoroughly studied. Mrs. Wilcox stressed words derived from Latin to increase the pupil's understanding of medical, judicial, and musical terms.

Grammar content and usage were important musts in Spanish. First year pupils used grammar to present skits; second year pupils, by writing themes. The Señors and Señoritas learned to understand the Spanish by studying their cultural background and customs.

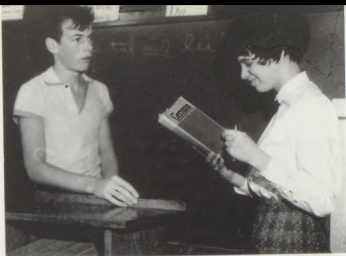

German pupils, using the folk song as a tool, explored the cultural background of Germany. Among the more popular examples were the student marching songs, "Das Wandern," and "Mein Vater warein Wandersmann." These and other folk songs carried out their original intention by providing the students with a vivid realization of the language and culture of the motherland.

Miss Wilcox and Miss Tangeman, the Latin and Spanish teachers respectively, discuss teaching methods with the German instructor, Mr. Gehrig.

Spanish, and Latin

Techniques of pronunciation are practiced by Greg Gross and Frances Ambross in German class.

These three Latin students are showing their interest in ancient Roman culture. Michael Trelinski studies the dress of senator Jerry Novak and of Roman soldier Tim Beaudrie.

Formulas, Phalanges,

Chemistry pupils laboriously probed the atom and its structure. As amateur Rembrandts, they learned how to draw atomic diagrams. In physics, juniors obtained practical knowledge about the different parts of the automobile engine.

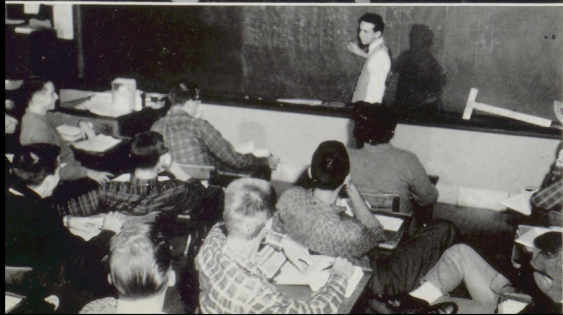

Biology ignited sparks of interest by providing a constant variety and wide choice of topics for study. Freshmen studied how living things functioned and how they obtained nourishment to maintain life processes. Health classes dealt with the analyzation of the fascinating phenomena performed by the human body.

In addition to making applications of previously studied truths, seniors investigated new truths in special advanced math classes. By studying plane geometry, sophomores obtained the knowledge of logical arrangement and thought.

In the study of a first course of algebra, freshmen received the knowledge of working with signed and literal numbers. Mr. Oral Watkins taught juniors functional relationships, radical and imaginary numbers, quadratic functions, logarithms, combinations and probability.

Physics students who participate in a demonstration of centrifugal force are Barbara Herred, Ron Elo, Ed Bogucki, and Cris Condo look on. This is just one of the various demonstrations of principles learned in Mr. Martin's Physics classes.

Members of Miss Booth's trigonometry class watch attentively as a fellow classmate explains the various applications of complicated trigonometric functions.

Figures and Phyla Frenzy Frustrated Clarkites

"The Blackboard Jungle" seems clearer as a volunteer commercial math student points out short cuts to those seemingly impossible problems. Such demonstrations help students to visualize the steps to correct problems.

Juniors Fred Strezo and Ron Mertz dissect "Herman the Human" as they show their third period class the intricate parts of the body. This demonstration proves to be both educational and entertaining.

In one of Mr. Martin's chemistry classes, with the available laboratory equipment and the aid of John Barron, Phil Pratt attempts to validate the chemical equation $2\text{KBr} + \text{MnO}_2 + \text{H}_2\text{SO}_4 \rightarrow \text{K}_2\text{SO}_4 + \text{MnO} + \text{Br}_2 + \text{H}_2\text{O}$.

Freshmen biologists, Charles Francis and Judy Burkat, peek into the fascinating world of the amoeba, protozoa, and paramecium through the all-telling eyes of the microscope. This fine instrument aids in the froshs' learning.

Journeying to those far away places with strange sounding names is an economical and pleasant trip experienced by all world geography pupils. Mapwork gives pupils a chance to display their new-found talents.

Students Seek Home and Global Understanding

The social sciences, essential to the understanding of civilization, provide the key to contemporary world problems. At Clark, economics, government, United States history, world history, and geography comprise this key.

Economics and government provide a knowledge and understanding of the economic and governmental structure of our country. These classes serve to make Clark seniors better consumers and citizens.

In order for the youth to perpetuate the institutions of this country, they must be informed of their origin and development. United States history serves this purpose.

Understanding of civilization, one of the objectives of the social sciences, is the idea behind the world history course. The curriculum of this course traces man's political and cultural development from prehistoric times to the present.

The fifth component of the social science curriculum is geography. Because environment has a definite effect on the way of life, knowledge of geography is essential to world understanding.

Students enjoy the pleasures of home as they sit in Mr. Erickson's economics class and watch educational television.

Prepare to Venture into Business World

More than three-fourths of the Clark student body participated in business classes this year. Shorthand, typing, business machines, bookkeeping, business law, and general business composed the commercial course. Through the use of these subjects, expertly trained teachers gave students a glimpse into the business world.

College preparatory pupils, as well as general course pupils participated in business work. In typing, the equal representation of pupils participating in the three types of courses offered at Clark exemplified this fact.

Typing was the most pursued subject in the commercial courses. Shorthand and business machines tied for second ranking.

"Seek and thou shalt find" is the Golden Rule of room 10. Junior Jean Petrovich practices a daily warm up assignment.

Calculating numerous figures, business-bound senior girls tackle the many-keyed machines in Mr. Stavros' business machines class.

"Dictator" Coughlan's new order is read to eager third period shorthand students. Speed and accuracy are stressed as keys to the leader's heart.

Aspired Students

Cooking is the chemistry of food. In cooking class girls learned, through experimentation, the vital procedures in preparing a meal. Teachers also instructed these future homemakers in proper etiquette and table setting.

In sewing class pupils not only learned to make their own clothes, but also became conscious of styles, colors, and textures of the materials used.

The woodworking artist expressed himself in shop. With the variety of tools available, every boy could make his own creations, adding his own personal touch.

"The Language of Industry," more familiarly known as mechanical drawing, acquainted each boy with a basic knowledge of the construction and design of buildings. This basic knowledge was then put to use by the boys in drawing neat and accurate blue prints.

Whereby the four previous classes had a definite pattern to follow, the pupil enrolled in art developed his creative abilities using his imagination, not a pattern.

Lynn Lawson "meets the press" in the sewing class to make good use of some steam heat.

Gene Kohler industriously learns the "tricks of the trade" of the handy-man as he sands one of his projects in Mr. Hein's shop class.

Meritorious Students Recognized for Their

Konrad Banasak and Robert Weinberg achieved the honor of salutatorian and valedictorian, respectively of their class.

Clark pupils again showed their prowess in different fields by earning various prizes and awards.

Three boys achieved a position which was considered by many as the ultimate in scholastic prowess. This position was that of a National Merit Scholarship finalist. Konrad Banasak, Gary Kaplan, and Robert Weinberg accomplished this end by scoring well on a series of tests.

Other pupils earned recognition by being given posts of trust. Among these students were the Girls' and Boys' State Delegates and the Junior Rotarians. The Junior Rotarians attended weekly meetings of the Rotary—a different boy each month.

Other winners consisted of: Barbara Toops, Betty Crocker Future Homemaker; Diane Wozniak, DAR Award; and Linda Hric, Biology Award.

Junior Rotarians Gary Kaplan, Jack Taylor, Robert Weinberg, Mike Kirn, Ron Dembowski, Dave Chyla, Konrad Banasak, and Charles Freeland are given the opportunity to meet community leaders at Rotary Club meetings.

Outstanding Efforts

Diane Wozniak, recipient of the Daughters of the American Revolution Award, represents ideal qualities of leadership.

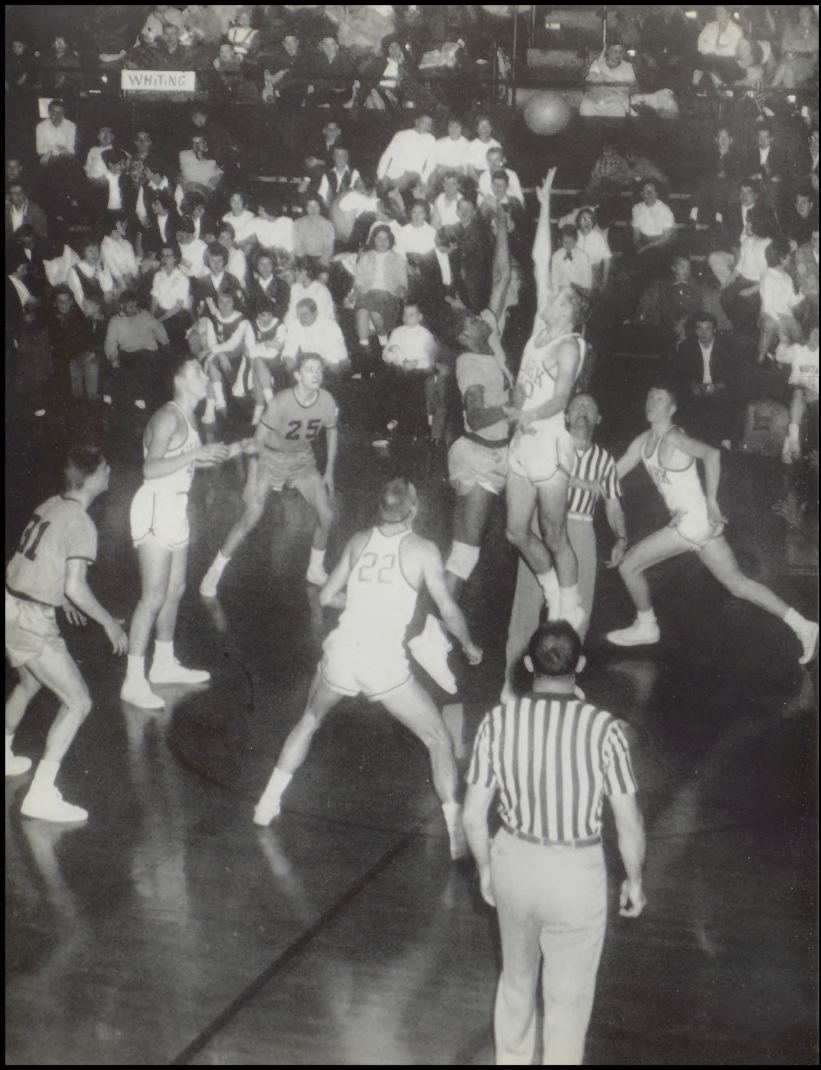

Barbara Toops, senior, won the Betty Crocker Award for being the outstanding homemaker of 1962.

Konrad Banasak, Bob Weinberg and Gary Kaplan are among the ten thousand National Merit Scholarship Finalists.

Linda Hric, 1962 outstanding sophomore biology student, was honored with the Lyle Memorial Award.

Clark's cross-country team worked this year with only three seniors: K. Miller, J. Pustek, and E. Best. The Harriers, coached by Mr. Edward Shields, dropped the opening meet of the season to Highland, 25-30. The Pioneers' only other dual meet resulted in a 20-41 romp of Cross-Town rival Whiting . . . In their next engagement, The Hammond City Meet, the Shieldsmen placed fourth. The Harriers attained an over-all record of 4 wins and 8 losses. They secured their remaining victories from Lew Wallace, Horace Mann, and Whiting.

In the Conference meet the Pioneers finished nineteenth. Clarkmen then traveled to the Hobart Sectionals where they placed eighteenth. Next year's team will be built around several promising returnees, lettermen Ed Barlo, Tom Jez, Bob LaBrant, and Tom Milanowski.

Clark's tennis team placed fourth in the Western Division this year with an eight and six record. This year for the first time the Netmen played each of the seven other Western Division teams twice, resulting in a fourteen game schedule rather than the usual seven game slate.

In their first match Hammond Tech downed the Pioneer team, 3-1. The Pioneers bounced back with two wins, one over Horace Mann, 4-0, and the other over Tolleston, 3-2. In their next match the Netmen dropped a 4-1 decision to Hammond High. The Pioneers then hosted Lew Wallace and handed them a 5-0 defeat. Following this victory E. C. Washington, the Western Division champs, clipped the Racket Rattlers 3-2.

In the second round of play, the Netmen registered a four and three record, identical to the first round. They repeated the loss to the Tech Tigers, 3-2. The Pioneers then triumphed over Horace Mann, 5-0, and Tolleston, 3-2. In their next outing Hammond High's Wildcats shut out the Clarkmen 5-0 by capturing all the matches. The tennis team climaxed its season with victories over Roosevelt and Wallace by scores of 3-2 and 5-0 respectively, and a loss to E. C. Washington, 4-1.

The Pioneer Gridmen opened the 1961 campaign by competing in the Whiting Football-O-Rama. In their single-quarter clashes with East Chicago Washington and Whiting, the Aldrichmen lost to Washington, 7-0, while tying the Oilers, 0-0. Washington managed to score in the closing minutes of play to gain their victory. Whiting and Clark battled to a scoreless tie, although the Pioneers threatened to score on several occasions.

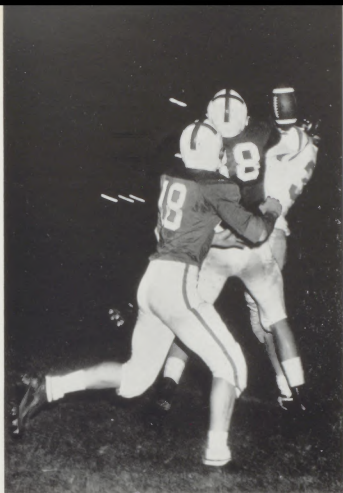

Morton dealt the Clarkites a resounding 53-0 defeat in the Pioneer's first scheduled encounter. East Chicago Roosevelt followed suit by turning a 0-0 half-time deadlock into a 21-0 win in the first Clark Western Division game. East Chicago Washington also found the Pioneers vulnerable and walked away from Clark field with a 25-0 victory.

Clark dropped its next four scheduled contests to Highland, 14-13; Gary Emerson, 19-13; Hammond Tech, 19-7; and Hammond High, 21-0. Larry King scored two touchdowns in the four games, while Bob Priest, Jack Deshincoe, and Buck Makis added one each. Chuck Freeland added two of the extra points and Dave Dedinsky the other.

The Pioneers capped an otherwise unsuccessful '61 season by defeating cross-town rival, Whiting, 7-0. The Clarkites scored their lone touchdown of the game with only eighteen seconds left to play. Junior Larry King, the Pioneer's leading scorer, rammed over for the score. Junior Dave Dedinsky, Clark's leading ground gainer, plunged over from the two yard line for the final point. Clark's all-over record was one win against seven losses.

Senior guard Steve Psikula rated both an honorable mention on the annual U.P.I. Indiana high school All-State squad and a second team rating on the Western N.I.H.S.C. All-star squad.

"I'm coming!" Bill Gulvas shouts encouragement to Chuck Freeland as he hustles to his assistance. Their efforts came to no avail as the Pioneers lost to Morton, 53-0.

The three football coaches, A. Peterson (backfield coach), E. Aldrich (head coach), and R. Williams (line coach), smile triumphantly after last second victory over Whiting.

"Thanks, Chuck!" Dave Dedinski, grateful for the fine block by Charlie Freeland, slips away from a would-be Hammond High tackler for a sizable gain in the 21-0 loss to the Wildcats.

Frosh Post Respectable Four and Two Mark

The Settlers lost their opening game to Morton by a 12-0 score. E. C. Roosevelt inflicted another 12-0 shutout on the Settlers.

Paul Makis initiated scoring for the Settlers in a 7-6 loss to Gavit. Hammond High's Wildkittens shutout the Settlers in their next outing, 21-0.

The long awaited first victory came at the expense of Tech's Tigers, 7-0. Roy Moffitt led the Settlers to this win by passing to Harvey Crouch for the touchdown and adding the extra point. The season ended with a 24-6 loss to Whiting.

Freshmen had the only Clark football team with a winning record. The Homesteaders won four of six games.

Gavit fell victim to the Frosh in the season opener, 12-0. They next defeated the pigskin toters from Hammond High, 7-0. The Freshmen then victimized Irving, 14-6. Morton's Frosh dealt Coach Hein's cohorts their first defeat, 12-0.

The Homesteaders bounced back with a 12-7 victory over Whiting. Hammond Tech ended the season by nipping the Frosh in the season final, 7-0.

Washington Proves Hex in Sectional Semis

The Pioneers initiated the season by losing to South Bend Riley, 51-47. The Roundballers produced rookie Coach Stavros' initial varsity win, a 77-56 victory over Hobart. Jim Moffitt shot the Stavrosmen to victory with 27 points.

South Bend Washington and Hammond High dealt the Clarkmen their second and third losses of the season by scores of 57-42 and 77-50, respectively. The Pioneers marked their second notch in the win column with a 67-61 decision over E. C. Roosevelt.

After dropping outings to S. B. St. Joseph and Gary Tolleston, the Stavrosmen journeyed to Huntington for the Holiday Tourney. The Pioneers returned with two defeats. They opened the tourney with a 53-41 loss to Huntington. The Whiting Oilers inflicted a 50-43 defeat on the Roundballers in the consolation game.

The Stavrosmen next journeyed to Gary to upend Lew Wallace's Hornets, 61-58. Whiting dealt the Clarkites another defeat, 54-50. The Pioneers succumbed to Washington after providing the top-rated Senators with a few anxious moments. Valparaiso then clipped the youthful Roundballers, 64-50.

Junior Tom Allison led the Pioneers with 20 points in a rousing 76-62 victory over Tech's Tigers. The Stavrosmen next skimmed by Horace Mann, 61-59.

Continuing their streak, they disposed of Morton's highly touted Governors. Seniors Jim Moffitt and Dave Chyla bombed the nets for 21 and 19 points, respectively, in the 63-61 win over Morton. The next night brought a 69-47 shellacking of T. F. North. Chyla continued his weekend scoring spurt by depositing 24 counters in this walk-away.

Emerson halted the Pioneer streak by clipping the Clarkites 61-51. The Roundballers closed out the regular season with a 54-52 victory over Grif-fith and an 81-66 loss to Gary Froebel.

The Stavrosmen qualified for a Saturday afternoon berth opposite Washington in the Sectionals by whipping Highland, 64-43, and Lowell, 65-59. The Senators squelched any hopes of a Sectional Championship with a 68-51 victory.

"Scoop it, Moffs!" Senior Jim Moffitt replies to the shouts from the Pioneer bench as he lays up an easy two-pointer in an early 48-45 loss to South Bend Saint Joseph.

Freshmen Achieve Plus .500 Season Record

The B-Squaders followed their opening loss to S. B. Riley with a 42-32 conquest of Hobart. They next axed the Gavit Gladiators by a final count of 46-21.

Hammond chopped the Settlers down in their next outing, 50-40. The Heinmen recuperated with two victories, one over Gavit and the other over Tech by scores of 51-49 and 35-32, respectively.

The Settlers lost their next six games, bowing to Hammond, Morton, Whiting, Washington, Valpo and Tech, in that order. Gavit provided the Heinmen with their fifth win, 57-38. They climaxed the season with a loss to Morton and a season ending win over Griffith, 46-40.

This year's Freshman team posted a respectable 13-4 record. However, the season opened on a sad note with a 39-38 loss to E. C. Roosevelt.

The Homesteaders began their winning streak by walloping the Gladiators of Gavit, 36-22. They added seven more victims to their list, disposing of Hammond, Calumet, Irving, Morton, E. C. Roosevelt, Tech and Gavit in that order.

E. C. Washington and Hammond High sidetracked the Frosh by scores of 48-38 and 43-31, respectively. Whiting, 46-30, and Irving, 61-36, next felt the power of the Homesteaders. After a 44-40 loss to Whiting, they climaxed their season with victories over Morton, T. F. North and Tech.

Senior Turfman Jack Taylor concentrates hard while trying to blast a deeply embedded ball from the rough.

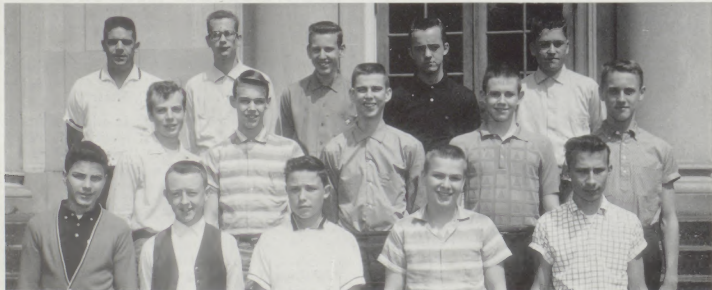

The Clark Turfmen opened their 1961 season by participating in the Hammond City Meet. Clark finished fifth with a 521 total.

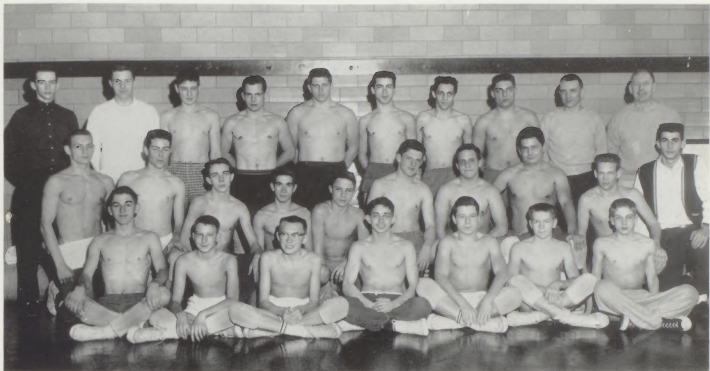

In their first Western Division match, the Divotmen fell to E. C. Washington and Lew Wallace. The Teebreakers then defeated Horace Mann, while falling victim to Hammond. Valparaiso and E. C. Roosevelt then dealt the Pioneers two losses. In the Lake Hills Invitational, Clark's team of Taylor, Warner, Eberle, and Gross shot 388 and placed 18th in the meet. The Turfmen defeated Emerson twice, while being nipped by Tech in two encounters. Horace Mann was the last victim of the Pioneers. Clark lost its next two encounters to close out the 1961 season with a 4-12 conference record and a seventh place finish.

In the sectionals the Turfmen, Taylor, Warner, Eberle, and D. Burk, shot a 374 total.

Miles Captures Sixth Place in State Tournament

Even though the Grapplers had a 4-8 record, they produced a Sectional Champion, Ermon Miles, and a Sectional Runner-up, John Galatzer. Miles advanced to win sixth in the State.

The opening match resulted in a 28-22 victory over Highland's Trojans. In their next match the Pioneers received a 44-8 spanking at the hands of the Thornton Fractional South Rebels, Illinois defending State Champions.

The Grapplers bounced back by romping over Lowell, 36-16. They continued their winning ways by trouncing Bishop Noll's Warriors, 33-23.

After these two victories, the Pioneers hit a long dry stretch of six consecutive losses. In this string Tech, Tolleston, Valparaiso, Hammond, Roosevelt and Crown Point inflicted losses on the Grapplers. The Pioneers ended their season with a win over Washington and a loss to Morton.

Tuning up for the Regionals, John Galatzer, Sectional Runner-up, and Ermon Miles, Sectional Champ, check their ability to escape certain holds.

Shumaker Sets City Low & High Hurdles Record

Coach Steve Stavros opened his first season as head track coach by traveling to the University of Chicago Fieldhouse for the Conference Indoor. The youthful Pioneers returned with a tenth place finish. One week later the trackmen returned to the Fieldhouse to place third in the Hammond City Indoor Meet.

In the dismal team showing in these first two meets, one bright spot glittered. Senior Robert Shumaker finished a close second in both the high and low hurdles in the Conference Indoor. He improved upon these and finished by completely out-running all opponents in capturing first place in the two hurdles races in the City Indoor.

Valparaiso's Vikings pinned a loss on the thin-clads in their first dual meet. The Stavrosmen returned home with revenge in their eyes. Whiting's Oilers ventured onto Clark Field to combat the Pioneers. Coach Stavro's cohorts ran up their highest score of the season in whipping the Greencads from Whiting, 75-34.

In their next meet the Clark trackmen entertained Morton's Governors. The Governors dealt the Pioneers their second dual meet defeat of the season, 79-30.

The Gary Froebel Blue Devils extended the Pioneer's losing skein by tripping the Stavrosmen in Gary, 72-37.

In their first triangular meet, the Hammond Tech Tigers and the Gary Lew Wallace Hornets nosed out the Pioneer thinclads. In winning the triangular the Tigers scored 49½ points to 47½ for the Lew Wallace Hornets. The Clark trackmen placed a close third scoring 41 points.

As he clears the bar, high jumper Jim Moffitt exemplifies the saying, "Put Your Best Foot Forward."

Clark	21½	Valparaiso	87½
Clark	75	Whiting	34
Clark	30	Morton	79
Clark	37	Froebel	72
Clark	41	Tech	47½
Clark	41	Lew Wallace	49½
Clark	52	Bishop Noll	48
Clark	52	Whiting	29
Clark	10th Conference Indoor
Clark	3rd City Indoor
Clark	7th LaPorte Invitational

Tuning up for the LaPorte Invitational the Pioneers held a triangular meet. The Clarkites proved to be poor hosts as they skimmed by the Warriors of Bishop Noll, 52-48, and again trounced the neighboring Oilers, 52-29.

Bob Shumaker led the cindermen to a seventh place finish in the LaPorte Invitational by finishing second in the high hurdles.

Coach Stavros is expecting a better season next year. He is basing his hopes on several promising returnees. Gary Conn and Harvey Crouch broke the Freshman school records in the shotput and the half-mile respectively. Jim Moffitt, a promising performer, six times came within an inch of setting the school high jump record.

"Only a half lap to go." That's what might be going through Sophomore Tom Milanowski's mind as he finishes the grueling last lap of the mile, the toughest of all track events.

Ever try running hurdles? It's not easy. But Senior Eric Best makes it look "simple as pie" as he shows perfect form in running the high hurdles.

Stickmen Hustle to Place Third in Conference

The Pioneer stickmen sported a conference record of 7 wins and 3 losses while accumulating an over-all record of 8 and 5. Cas Ruzychi and Al Lewandowski led the Pioneers with batting averages of .428. Chuck Freeland set the pace with 7 R.B.I.'s.

The Aldrichmen notched their first victory of the season by shellacking Highland 14 to 4. The initial conference proved successful with a 4 to 1 win over E. C. Washington. After squeaking by E. C. Roosevelt, 3 to 2, the Pioneers lost their first conference game to Whiting's Oilers, 5 to 1. The fighting Pioneer team regained form with an impressive 4 to 1 victory over the Hammond High Wildcats. On May 15, the stickmen faced Hammond Tech for the Western Division leadership. Tech's Tigers left the Pioneers in second place, 7 to 1. The Aldrichmen climaxed their season with consecutive conquests of East Chicago Washington, Roosevelt, Whiting, and Hammond High. Tech's Tigers closed the season by trouncing the Clarkmen, 7 to 1.

With a long stride off the rubber and a smile of confidence, Sophomore Bob Smolar delivers a side arm curveball to the opposing batter.

"You're out." That's one of the familiar calls of the umpire that every baseball player hears at sometime or other during a game. Sophomore Greg Terranova, sliding home, certainly hears that call as he is tagged out by Al Lewandowski during an inter-squad game.

Before a game, Coach Aldrich pushes a perfect bunt down the third base line during infield practice.

Physical Fitness is Stressed for All

"Practice makes perfect" for the girls gym classes as they shoot baskets in hopes of making the varsity team.

"That'll cause you three extra laps," was a phrase that echoed from the rafters of the gym. Both the males and the females of Clark helped to put President Kennedy's physical fitness program into action.

Girls, under the instruction of Miss Doris Myers and Miss Donna Marco, learned poise, good sportsmanship, and the fundamental rules and skills of popular sports.

Boys' gym classes, under the instruction of Mr. Joe Franklin, were put through their paces. They learned all techniques of football, basketball, and baseball. To "get in shape" the boys practiced calisthenics. Instead of taking four semesters of gym, the required amount, boys could participate in many sports and gymnastic activities. Among these were a gym and tumbling show.

Scholastic ability and physical fitness combined to make Clark one of the top-ranking schools in this area.

Tumblers display their talents as "headstanders" and "pyramid builders" perform for the entire student body.

Miniature rope climber skims the rope to the top of the gym and then down again in record-breaking time.

G.A.C. Banquet Ends an Active Year

Senior Mary Keith throws the ball and hopes for a strike.

These G.A.C. members get in the swim of things.

"College Playday," was the theme for the annual GAC picnic. Under the direction of Miss Doris Myers, the girls frolicked in the sun at Marquette Park, in Gary.

Members engage in four seasonal sports, beginning with swimming and softball and concluding with bowling and basketball. These sports keep GAC members fit, trim, and healthy. This is the main goal of GACers.

Girls are eligible for membership after participating in two of the four sports that are offered, and are formally initiated at the Mother-Daughter Banquet held at the Panel Room. An informal initiation is conducted by the senior members.

The Girls' Athletic Club has grown to be one of the largest organizations at Clark. It will continue to grow and promote its creed of health education, as its members derive fun and enjoyment from healthy exercise and sports.

G. A. C. officers are Miss D. Myers, sponsor; L. Wetnight, president; C. Berland, treasurer; J. Dybel, secretary; J. Tolchinsky, vice-president; and B. Benko, head-of-sports.

C-Men Help Support School Spirit

Clark's Lettermen Club again, this year, was one of the most active of school's various organizations.

The selling of popcorn proved to be the most successful of the different fund-raising campaigns. C-Club members sold popcorn at the school functions, ranging from freshman basketball games to the annual P.T.A. Food Fair.

Of course, the C-Club carried out its yearly duties of selling programs, seating fathers on father's night, etc.

The members, also, tried to have the club help them. One way in which they tried to accomplish this end was the delegation of points for various services performed. A certain accumulation of these points would entitle a boy to a lower-priced ticket to the annual banquet.

"Aw, come on. Be a sport!" C. Freeland, J. Taylor and E. Miles coerce B. Kussy into buying a bag of C-Club popcorn.

The visit of the Southern Illinois University Chamber Choir and two other college glee clubs high lighted a highly successful season for the Vocal Music Department under the direction of Mr. William Wakeland. The S.I.U. group, along with about 180 students from ten area high schools, came here for a Madrigal Festival which Clark sponsored. The Wabash College Men's Glee Club was here in September and the Michigan State University Men's Glee Club presented a concert in March. Members of the department also heard a jazz concert by Dave Brubeck, the musical My Fair Lady, and the Indiana University Madrigal Singers. The winter concert in December included "The Night Before Christmas." The spring concert in March featured Gilbert and Sullivan's operetta Trial by Jury. A vesper program was presented on the school steps in May, and the department closed the year by singing at the Seniors' Baccalaureate.

The Boy's Quartet, consisting of Ken Miller, Gary Kaplan, Charles Melton, and Ron Burk, sings for clubs and concerts.

Singers Diligently Practice for Concert

"All right, cherubs, let's get to work!"

On Tuesday night and Thursday morning this cry could be heard ringing in the vocal music room where the Madrigal Group meets. The Madrigal Group, the most advanced singing group, sings Baroque and Elizabethan music, arranged folk songs, and contemporary numbers. To top off this year's effort they combined with the A Cappella Choir to present a Bach sonata for two choirs. Linda Field accompanied on the school's new harpsichord.

The Girls' Choir is a group which meets seventh period every day. This year it sang a wide range of contemporary music including songs from Britten's Ceremony of Carols and Bernstein's West Side Story.

The Vocal Music Department, under the direction of Mr. William Wakeland, is composed of a number of different groups. Upon entering Clark, freshmen interested in music may join either Girls' Chorus or Boys' Chorus. After gaining a limited amount of music appreciation, they are allowed to join any of the groups they wish. Among these groups are Girls' Choir, composed of approximately thirty-five girls, and Harmonettes, being made up of fifty members. Another group is Harmonettes, a triple trio, which meets after school on Tuesday evenings. Meeting daily is A Cappella Choir which consists of approximately forty-five members. All these groups play a big part in the composition of the Vocal Music Department.

Two Suites Highlight Orchestra Concert

In its first year, under the direction of Miss Thelma Wilcox, the orchestra performed the "Nell Gwyn Suite" by German, and the "Mirtillo Suite" by Handel. A harpsichord and a harp supplemented the usual complement of strings, woodwinds, and percussion. The brasses joined to help in other compositions, such as "El Pelacario" by Padilla. Individual achievement was stressed. Ensembles and soloists fared well at both the district and state contests.

The orchestra also contributed to the social atmosphere. Their rendition of the "Clarkstone Cops," which used an antique auto, garnered a first in the Homecoming Parade. The orchestra dance, "Schnibbel Stomp," featured original rock 'n roll compositions. The winning composition was entitled "Purple Flyin' Carpet."

Practicing diligently on a difficult concerto for the Orchestra Concert in March is Sandy Fauth, harpist.

Director Carlyle Snider announced a modification of traditional band policy, effective in 1962. He de-emphasized participation in the annual ensemble contest sponsored by the Northern Indiana School Band, Orchestra, and Vocal Association. Two permanent ensembles, one woodwind, one brass, rehearsed throughout the year, playing both popular and classical literature, and performed with the full band in concert. The new de-emphasis did not extend to the NISBOVA solo contest, in which the band participated with customary distinction. Twelve soloists won first division rating in the district contest and played in the state contest, held February 17, at Broad Ripple High School, Indianapolis. The January Winter Concert, a demonstration of aptitude and perseverance, included literature as advanced as the finale from Dvorak's "New World" Symphony, and "Folk Song Suite" by Vaughan-Williams.

"Littlest" Pioneer, "George", Arrives at Clark

The sounds of "Mighty Proud of It, G.R.C." and "P-i-o-n-e-e-r-s, Pioneers" resounded mightily in the Whiting Memorial Gymnasium from the Clark cheering section. Organizing the cheering block in conjunction with the cheerleaders was just one of the activities engaged in by the Booster Club.

Chartering a bus to the Huntington Tourney, purchasing blue and white shakers, and passing out "Rah Rah" pins and Clark buttons were some of the other activities engaged in by the club. The club purchased a mannequin and clothed him in typical pioneer garb from the coonskin cap to the moccasins. The "littlest" Pioneer was nicknamed, "George".

Bulging Eyes Peer into Gym Tuesday Nights

Like the Balinese, the main objective of the thirty-five members of Modern Dance was to interpret music and to create dances to fit this music.

Membership was open to any high school girl interested, but decision of new members was based upon the prospective members' co-operation, poise, and co-ordination.

Because of the extensive material involved, Modern Dance held a regular Tuesday night meeting. Besides these regularly scheduled meetings, special rehearsals were called and held in preparation for their public performance. Before their creative abilities were put to use, the girls limbered up for fifteen minutes.

Girls that belonged to Modern Dance wore black leotards which served as a basis for any costume they needed. In the spring concert, Modern Dance performed to the misty "Deep Purple," "Stairway to the Stars," and the lively "Everything's Comin' Up Roses."

Crash! Bang! First Place! The Stage Crew had another first to add to its line of activities. With the helpful co-operation of its members, the Crew copped a blue ribbon for its entry of the Queen's float in the 1961 Homecoming Parade.

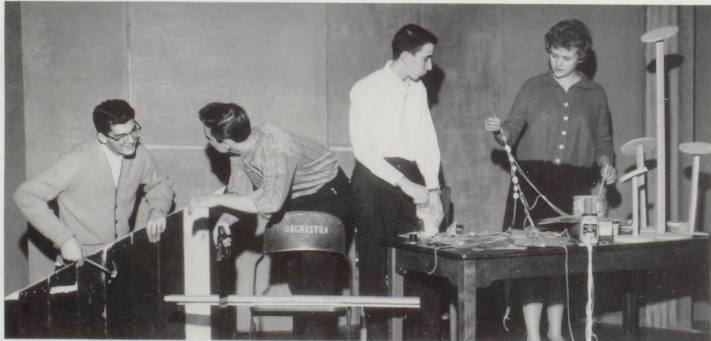

Group co-operation was also responsible for the Production of "A Night of Comedy," a combination of three humorous one-act plays. Stag Crew, again was instrumental in the success of this venture.

Ways and Means, If Men Played Cards As Women Do, and Amicable Parting found life in the persons of our Stage Crew. on its own, but its members also served many other organizations throughout the 1961-62 Clark school year. Lighting for all the dances and assemblies was a special project for them.

The Stage Crew furnished curtain-pullers and lighting men for junior high assemblies and fashion shows.

The music department was also furnished with a Stage Crew to handle the technical end of its productions.

The elementary groups also felt the far reaching support of the Stage Crew. These groups were furnished with furniture-movers, curtain-pullers, and light crews necessary for elementary staging efforts.

The Stage Crew served Clark in many areas beginning with the elementary grades, through the junior high and, finally, the senior high.

Two clubs at Clark concentrated upon serving those less fortunate than themselves.

The motto of the Junior Red Cross, "We believe in service for others," manifested itself in the activities of the club. Funds raised by the annual movie project were used to buy a Christmas basket for a needy family, clothing for the Northwest Township Old Folks Home for Men, clothing for needy boys, and supplies for boxes sent overseas. A new project initiated this year was sending birthday cards and cakes to elderly people. In order to inform the public of the work they had done, club members decorated a window in the NIPSCO building.

The Y-Teens, a division of the Young Women's Christian Association, also performed many acts of selfless service. Work to organize the club started with a summer workshop at Syracuse, Indiana. Two delegates were sent to this workshop. At Christmas the club sent baskets and Christmas trees to needy families in the community. Club members also delivered a Christmas tree, some candy, and cookies, and a giant card signed by all the members of the club. Part of the Y-Teen program was teaching the girls about grooming and fashion. The Hammond Y.W.C.A. offered a course in this area. The social activities of the club were capped by a Burton Holmes Travelogue about the Caribbean.

Because of the overwhelming number of students interested in joining Y-Teens, Clark's Y-Teen Club was divided into two groups. The Senior Y-Teens were co-sponsored by Mrs. Catherine Dunham and Miss Edna Howe. Miss Carol Krupa sponsored the newly organized Freshman Y-Teens.

The Easter week religious services and the annual induction ceremony capped the activities of the Hi-Y. The clubs this year participated in many activities organized by the Hammond Y.M.C.A., such as the City Hi-Y Basketball Tourney, which the Clark Hi-Y won.

Activities of the Freshmen-Sophomore Hi-Y, under the direction of Mr. Watkins, included the sale of pop at school activities, the checking of coats at dances, and the sale of football and basketball schedule pencils.

The Junior-Senior Hi-Y, headed by Mr. Wilkinson, raised funds by having newspaper drives and car washes. The funds collected by the two clubs were used to support world service projects, the Hammond Y.M.C.A., and "to create, maintain, and extend throughout the home, school, and community, high standards of Christian character."

Hardly a day went by during which a member of the Audio-Visual Operators' Club was not seen dashing about the halls. The A.V.O. Club, under the direction of Mr. Wilkinson, performed a vital service to the school. Members of the club provided music for dances, ran movies, made announcements, operated tape recorders, and maintained and repaired audio-visual equipment. The A.V.O. held a Christmas basketball party and sponsored a dance to raise funds for the club treasury.

Members of the Photo Club, under the leadership of Mr. Arthur Erickson, commonly known as "Mr. E," snapped shots at school activities, scurried to take "ad" pictures, and reprinted an infinite number of "lost" pictures. The pictures taken by the Photo Club were used by the POWDER HORN and were sold to school organizations, teachers, and students. Club members processed well over five-hundred separate pictures this year in a hole in the wall in room 223.

Neophyte Nurses Train under Mrs. Miller

Nurses' Club gives valuable aid to the school as they help organize the program of tuberculin testing for the school year. Special doctors and nurses are provided to give the test to both freshmen and seniors.

Nurses' Club officers are Nancy Small, president; Karen Csigas, vice-president; Pat Veslocki, treasurer; and Joyce Pietrzak, secretary.

The Nurses' Club enabled girls to become acquainted with hospitals, clinical techniques, and community health problems. The club also provided information and help in choosing a nursing school. In order to meet these goals, the club held discussions, heard speakers, and saw movies. The club heard a representative from the Army, the Director of the Saint Catherine's Hospital School of X-Ray, a recruiter from Saint Margaret's Hospital, and a representative from the Lake County Cancer Society. The members of the club planned a visit to one of the local hospitals in the spring.

Aside from the programs, the members were given the chance to work in the school nurse's office. This opportunity provides invaluable experience to Clark's future nurses.

The Nurses' Club provided gifts for the Norman Beatty Hospital patients for Christmas.

Protozoans Engross Budding Biologists

By peering through the narrow orifice of a microscope, Biology Club members saw assorted one-celled animals known as protozoans. After becoming familiar with paramecia, amoebas, and rotifers, the club attacked the one-celled plants. When the budding biologists could distinguish between these two kingdoms, they were confronted with the perplexing euglena that is seemingly half plant and half animal. Leaving the area of the one-celled life forms, club members moved through the thallophytes to the spermatophytes in the plant kingdom and through the poriferates to the vertebrates in the animal kingdom.

The Biology Club, under the direction of Mr. Powell, was formed eight years ago in order to expand through movies, field trips, and personal contact, knowledge of biology obtained in the classroom. This knowledge was then applied to personal research conducted by the members.

Examining biological specimens near the "good old fish tank" are Tim Beaudrie, Bob Hatzel, and Jeff Picklin.

Two Clubs Help Students Determine Vocations

Future Teachers of America, sponsored by Miss Delores McCampbell, organized to help its members decide if teaching is to be their vocation. At their meetings, the members learned about the profession through talks given by teachers, movies on the life of a teacher, and group discussions on the problems of a teacher.

The initiation of new members, the installation of officers, and a dinner to honor the graduating seniors made up the activities of this club. Aside from these social activities, the senior girls participated in a cadet teaching program. Under this program the girls gained practical teaching experience by helping pupils through reading groups, and spelling and arithmetic practices in the elementary grades during their free periods.

The Future Secretaries' Club, sponsored by Miss Joan Coughlan, prepared girls in the advanced shorthand classes for secretarial careers. The members reached a broader understanding of the importance of the secretary in the fast-moving business world of today.

The meetings, held every fourth Wednesday, featured speakers who explained the duties of the secretary, demonstrated office equipment, and stressed the importance of good grooming, co-operation, and efficiency on the job. Representatives from the personnel department of various industries described the procedure for placing job applications. The meetings, which were most interesting, included the informative discussions with alumnae who had entered the business world as stenographers and secretaries.

Dewey Decimals Plague Librarians

"From 100-199 is philosophy. From 200-229 is religion." The necessary learning of the Dewey Decimal System was just one of the many activities in which this year's Library Club participated. The members also learned the proper procedure for keeping books and magazines in proper condition, managing the desk, circulating library materials, and preparing new books for circulation.

Through these activities the club strived to serve the student body of Clark. Those pupils who maintained above average grades and who devoted about one hour per day to the work in the library gained much valuable experience in meeting and working with all kinds of people. The club also maintained the library bulletin board, which colorfully pictured such things as Christmas, Easter, Washington's birthday, and Memorial Day.

To support the club and to buy books and supplies, a bake sale was held in the spring.

Pioneers Learn to Fold and Publish Paper

The major duties performed by the members of the Pioneer News staff included folding papers, laying out dummy sheets, assigning and collecting stories, typing stencils, and mimeographing papers. From the paperfolders to the editor-in-chief, each duty was essential to the publication of Clark's newspaper, the Pioneer News.

In its 29th consecutive year of publication, the P.N.'s 34 mimeographed issues were produced weekly during the school year. Pictorial issues highlighted the home-coming, Christmas, and the senior edition.

Four editors prepared an annual feature page about Clark High for the Hammond Times. The P.N. also sent delegates to the Indiana High School Press Association Conference at Franklin College; a Press Conference sponsored by the Chicago Sun Times; and, the Northern Indiana Journalism Seminar at Valparaiso University.

Clark's Pioneer News, a member of the National Scholastic Press Association, the Indiana High School Press Association, the Columbia University Scholastic Press, and the Quill and Scroll Society, is sponsored by Mr. Muir.

Powder horns symbolized pioneer life just as this Powder Horn symbolizes the student life at the George Rogers Clark High School during the year 1961-62.

The Indiana University High School Journalism Institute started the endless schedule rolling. The first job of the co-editors, Diane Wozniak and Pamela Stewart, was to select staff members who would be willing to devote more than the expected. A theme and new layouts for the pictures had to be decided upon. The story of the year was centered around the theme "That Wonderful Year."

With the beginning of the school year, the staff began to write stories, take and crop pictures, solicit ads, and encourage yearbook sales. These things were all necessary for a terrific yearbook. As the work progressed, many unforeseen events caused delays and frazzled nerves. In spite of the problems faced, the staff tried to represent "That Wonderful Year" as simply and as clearly as possible.

The Powder Horn was distributed to Seniors at the Senior Banquet in May and to underclassmen on the last day of school. With the Signature Swing and the hectic exchange of autographs, the 1962 Powder Horn become a record of the joy and sorrow of that wonderful year—1962.

Co-editors Diane Wozniak and Pam Stewart crop pictures for the '62 Powder Horn.

POWDER HORN staff is S. Grogan, publicity editor; C. Brehmer, secretary; L. Wetnight, publicity editor; J. Bunn, ad editor; P. Fech, business manager; and B. Benko, ad editor.

Literary editors are Gary Kaplan, Dave Chyla, and Konrad Banasak. They take charge of all POWDER HORN copy.

Council Revises Constitution; Cabinet Drinks

The Student Council, sponsored by Mr. Buell, undertook the task of reforming the antiquated election procedures. The primary objectives of this reformation were to eliminate any possibility of "black-balling," to generate more student initiative, and to open the offices to more and better people.

After reforming the election procedures, the Council decided to pursue and find solutions for the problems that faced both the students and the faculty. The pulse of the body politic was discerned by the use of a questionnaire. Many problems were resolved by discussion and committee work.

Aside from the normal governing jobs, the Council engaged in sponsoring many social events. To the traditional intramural volleyball tourney, other intramural sports, such as bowling, were added. The assemblies were sponsored by the Council. The annual Inaugural Ball signified the end of the Council's year and the commencement of a new year.

Student Council officers are Mary Keith, sec.; Konrad Banasak, pres; Dave Chyla, treas; and Jim Moffitt, veep.

The National Honor Society dedicated itself to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote leadership, and to develop character. Membership, based upon scholarship, co-operation, leadership, and character, was open to all juniors and seniors that were in the upper third of their classes. Membership, however, was limited to five percent of the Junior Class and fifteen percent of the Senior Class.

Quill and Scroll, an international organization, recognized the individual achievements and encouraged individual initiative in the field of journalism. Membership was based upon individual qualities and the contributions made to journalism in conjunction with the publication of the Pioneer News or the POWDER HORN.

National Honoraries

Two national organizations, the National Thespian Society and the National Forensic League, encouraged, respectively, diligence and excellence in the dramatic arts and elocution. To become a member in either honorary, a student had to earn points by participating in the activity of the honorary.

National Thespian Troupe 1769 sponsored the all-school play, The Boyfriend, and a rollicking night of one-act comedies. The members also met to discuss plays and acting techniques. They strived to help in productions by participating in plays, aiding the direction of plays, or supervising the technical end of plays.

The National Forensic League endeavored to train students to become leaders and influential citizens. The members participated in debate, discussion, oratory, and other forms of public speaking. The highly controversial issues of Federal aid to education and nuclear testing were the main topics of discussion.

what's their future

The young people you see in these pictures are all on their way to successful careers in one of America's basic industries . . . steel. They decided (as we hope you will decide) to let Inland Steel Company help them plan their future.

Some are gaining knowledge and experience in special trades to become journeyman machinists, carpenters or electricians . . . some are concentrating on certain phases of steelmaking by working in the open hearth shops, the cold rolling mills or the galvanizing lines. Still others are working in laboratories building a sound foundation for a future in steel research.

Inland offers the high school graduate an excellent opportunity to further his education. Employees may participate in a variety of on-the-job training programs, or they can continue their formal education by registering for evening courses offered by local Purdue and Indiana University Extension Centers.

Plan now to investigate the unlimited opportunities for you in steel . . . with the midwest's own steel company . . . INLAND STEEL.

Hurray! Yes, we had our doubts about ever seeing the day that we would be completely through, but we made it. We can now resume somewhat normal lives and look back on some of the most trying but most enjoyable moments at George Rogers Clark High School. We'll miss most of all "that" room at the corner of the hall, commonly known as the PN room. It held for us some of our most precious moments and our best friends. The "goose" charge, lunch raids, flying typewriters, and big after graduation plans comprised a lot of our time.

We wish to thank our staff and especially the "old-timers" of the PN room for all the co-operation we experienced in THAT WONDERFUL YEAR 1962.
